

What You Pay

Is not all that counts when you buy a Diamond, but WHAT YOU GET—that is the real count. In Indianapolis that will compare with ours in color, perfection and brilliancy.

We bought them from the cutters in Amsterdam and we selected the best to be had in that great diamond market.

IS IT CURABLE?

A Question Often Asked by Those Afflicted With Piles.

Is a strained joint curable? Is local inflammation curable? Of course, if properly treated, so is piles.

People often become afflicted with piles and ask some old "chronic" who has always persisted in the wrong treatment, and naturally he discourages them by telling them that their case is hopeless.

They, in turn, discourage others, and thus a disease that can in every case be cured by careful and skillful handling is allowed to fester the energy of thousands who might free themselves of the trouble in a few days.

Pyramid Pile Cure will cure the most aggravated case of hemorrhoids in an astonishingly short time. It relieves the congested parts, reduces the tumors instantly no matter how large, allows the inflammation and stops the itching or itching at once.

Thousands who had resorted to expensive surgical treatment have been cured by the Pyramid Pile Cure—in a number of instances persons who had spent months in a hospital under a pile specialist.

It is a remedy that none need fear to apply even to the most aggravated swollen and inflamed hemorrhoidal tumors.

If you are afflicted with this stubborn disease you can master it and master it quickly.

This remedy is no longer an experiment, but a medical certainty, and is sold by druggists everywhere for 50 cents a package.

BROTHERS IN FIGHT AND ONE DIES FROM A BLOW

Cyrus Hubbard, Taunted by His Brother Otis, Wields Billiard Cue with Fatal Effect

GEORGE CARSON'S ARREST

Otis Hubbard and Carson Wanted Cyrus to Buy a Drink—Friday Night Affair.

Enraged by the repeated taunts of his brother, Otis Hubbard, and fearing that he was about to make good his oft-repeated threat to attack him, Cyrus Hubbard struck his brother in the head with a billiard cue in Morley's saloon, at Nineteenth street and Martindale avenue, Friday night, inflicting injuries which resulted in the death of Otis Hubbard some time early yesterday.

Several times during the night preceding the fight in which the fatal blow was struck Otis had threatened his brother because he had refused to buy him a drink. With George Carson, who, the police allege, encouraged Otis in his attacks upon his brother, Cyrus Hubbard was arrested yesterday afternoon by Detectives Manning and Simon and Patrolman DeStott. Hubbard is charged with murder and Carson is slated for being an accessory to murder.

In company with Carson the murdered man had been drinking during the day and Friday night, meeting his brother Cyrus in Blackwell's saloon, at Columbia avenue and Thirtieth street, where he demanded that he buy a drink. Cyrus Hubbard, who was with a friend named Kendall, told the man that he only had a dime, but in order to avert trouble he left the beer sitting on the bar and walked from the place.

FOLLOWED HIM SOME DISTANCE.

In his intoxicated condition Otis Hubbard, with Carson, followed Cyrus from Blackwell's to Morley's saloon, where the murder was committed. Otis was warned repeatedly by his brother to go away. Finally he left the saloon but returned about 10:30 o'clock more intoxicated than ever.

Cyrus Hubbard was sitting down well to the rear of the saloon when his brother re-entered the place. Accompanied by Carson, Otis took several drinks at the bar before he discovered his brother in the rear of the saloon. Immediately he began to taunt him for not buying a drink, calling him a cheap skate and other names. Cyrus refused to become involved in an argument with his brother and, when the latter started for him, he seized a cue and left the room.

With an angry cry the frenzied man sprang for his brother, when the latter turned and swung wildly with the heavy cue, struck his brother on the side of the head just over the right ear, where the skull is thinnest, and knocked him down.

Different stories are told of what happened after the blow was struck. It is said that Otis Hubbard lay for a moment on the floor and then arose and walked unsteadily to the bar. He took several drinks and beyond complaining of feeling dizzy appeared all right.

The police believe that Hubbard never rose after he was struck. They believe he was carried to the room over the saloon where the people in the saloon at the time not thinking him seriously injured, and left there.

It was only by the closest examination that any bruise was found on the man's head to show where the fatal blow fell. The skull was fractured, the hole caused by the blow being three inches long and two inches wide. Two fissures in the skull extended from the fracture to the base of the skull and there were several bruises on the body.

FOUND BY PORTER.

Hubbard was not found after he went to the room, or was carried there Friday night, until about 10 o'clock yesterday morning when the negro porter about the place, Tom Harvey, entered the room to clean the place. He discovered Hubbard lying on the floor with bloody froth oozing from his mouth.

The negro is dead and dumb, but he immediately notified the proprietor of the room, who hurried to the room to find Hubbard dead. No trace of a bruise could be found on the man and the corner Tuteville was not notified until several hours later.

The body was removed to Tuteville's undertaking establishment, but the first intimation the police had of the trouble was when some one telephoned the desk sergeant inquiring if the body of Hubbard had been taken to the morgue.

With nothing to work on beyond the fact that a man had been found dead in a room over the saloon, Detectives Simon and Manning were sent to the place. The officers learned the name of the saloon, but knew nothing of the trouble until a peddler named Shea told the story.

With Ed Hubbard, brother of the murdered man, the officers visited the saloon of William Blackwell at Thirtieth street and Columbia avenue, where the man who is known as Okey, was found. Cyrus Hubbard was found at his boarding house, 206 North Pennsylvania street, where his fight with his brother in the saloon and he was brought to the police station.

Until his arrest, Cyrus Hubbard, who was twenty-three years of age and Cyrus was a young man, were brothers in the family, all employed at the Atlas engine works.

ENGLISHMAN STUDIES PRISONS OF INDIANA

Representative of Charitable Society Appreciates Features of Local Juvenile Court.

Edward Grubb, secretary of the Howard Association, London, England, spent the past two days studying Indiana's institutions and the administration of laws regarding the prevention of crime. He was at the State Prison at Michigan City and spent some time Friday and Saturday at the office of the Board of State Charities and in visiting the Juvenile Court, police station and the Industrial School for Girls and Woman's Prison.

The Howard Association has a record of many years' work for prison reform and detention of criminals, and Grubb is a student of the causes of crime and of its prevention. Mr. Grubb was greatly interested in the progress made by Indiana in recent years.

The State's care of dependent children, the work of the Board of Children's Guardians and of the Juvenile Court pleased him greatly. While he was familiar with these measures from the publications of the Board of State Charities, he gave him pleasure to see the results and particularly the operations of the Juvenile Court.

In England the cellular system of confinement is used and prisoners are employed and fed each in his own cell. The only time they are brought together is at chapel. There is a growing interest in Great Britain in the indeterminate sentence and parole which Mr. Grubb said it was at chapel would soon be tried here. He secured all the information he could regarding the operation of these laws in Indiana and expressed great interest in the favorable results that have been achieved.

Mr. Grubb has spent some time in studying the convict camps and lease system employed in the Southern States and came to Indianapolis from Chicago to obtain information regarding laws for treatment and prevention of crime here. He left to visit the Ohio State Reformatory at Mansfield and will go from there to pursue his investigations in the Eastern States, particularly in Massachusetts.

MAN FALLS DOWN ELEVATOR SHAFT

Harry Ford, a sixteen-year-old boy, living at 235 North Capitol avenue, was painfully injured by falling down an elevator shaft yesterday afternoon. Ford is employed by Dr. Byrd, and while he was in the new flat building which Dr. Byrd is building on North Illinois street he was in some manner walked into the elevator shaft and fell one story. Dr. Jeffries, of the City Dispensary, was called, and found that the young man had been injured. He was taken to the hospital and removed to his home by the ambulance.

Mrs. William H. Cooper Dead.

Mrs. William H. Cooper, wife of William H. Cooper, superintendent of the Center township schools, died yesterday evening at 6 o'clock at the family home, 1908 East Twelfth street. The funeral will be from the residence at 10 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. All of the township schools will be closed.

ROMANCE OF AIL LIFE MAY SOON REACH CLIMAX

Edwin Ross Declares His Intention to Wed Kitty Brooks Soon as Possible.

In the case of Edwin Ross and Kitty Brooks, arrested recently in this city and now serving sentences for robbing flats, love, not only laughed at locksmaths, but at stern jailers. The couple will be married probably Monday morning, and Ross will be separated from his bride immediately after the ceremony, when he will be sentenced for from one to three years. Kitty Brooks has already served several terms of a six-month sentence in the workhouse.

Through love for the man it is said the Brooks woman left her husband at Hartford, Conn., and joined Ross. The husband has secured a divorce and as soon as the divorce papers are received by Judge Little, attorney for Ross, the couple will be married.

Ross said yesterday that he was earnest in his desire to wed the woman. "I feel responsible for the trouble she is in and I feel a great deal of her. She has been a good girl to me and I know she likes me. When I get out of this trouble I intend to take Kitty and make an honest attempt to lead a better life. I have found to my sorrow that there is nothing in the business I have been engaged in."

Ross is a good looking young fellow and apparently a capable man. He is now confined in the county jail charged with the murder of his wife, and who has been dangerously ill with pneumonia, was saved.

ALLEGORY AND RELIGION FOR AN EASTER FESTIVAL

German Society Will Present Elaborate Entertainment on Day After Sacred Occasion.

PLAIN DUAL PROGRAMME

A celebration of Easter from the allegorical standpoint will be given on the evening of Easter Monday, April 4, at the German House by the Söclicher Turnverein of this city. Easter is regarded as a Germanic festival which was in vogue long before the time of Christ. It is attributed to the Goddess of Spring, Ostara, whose presence heralds the glories of summer. In this festival the Sunday-school classes, the Turnverein Society, the orchestra and the choir of the Music Verein will participate.

The celebration will consist of two parts. The first will be of a mythological nature, commencing with the call of the old German chief for the spring offering, at which there will be nine priestesses. "The Last Dawn" will be allegorically demonstrated by twenty-four boys dressed as butterflies and flowers and the appearance of the sun god.

The first part will conclude with a tableau consisting of the magnificent procession led by Ostara.

The second part will be modern in nature, representing picnic grounds at which boys and girls join together in a gymnastic exhibition. The picnic ends when Ostara sounds her trumpet for the homeward march.

Mr. Hugo Fischer, of the Turnverein Society, is in charge of the gymnastic performance. Professor Brueselhoff is leader of the orchestra and the choir is under the charge of Miss Mamie Schumeyer. The decor of the stage will be supervised by Rudolf Schwarz, John Utrich and Ed Bortemann. Although the recitations and songs will be German the celebration should attract a large number of English-speaking people. As it is of a spectacular character, a novel and not an artistic production, it will be sure to hold the attention of the entire audience.

An invitation is extended to the general public to attend. A nominal fee of 25 cents will be charged for admission and reserved seats will soon go on sale.

IRISHMEN PLAN SPECIAL OBSERVANCE OF HOLIDAY

St. Patrick's Day Will Be Marked in Indianapolis by Parades and Assemblies.

MAYOR WILL PRESIDE

Meeting at Tomlinson Hall Will Savor of Emerald Isle Spirit.

Irishmen from all Marion county will unite on St. Patrick's day to celebrate with one of the most notable demonstrations of the past thirty-four years. The Ancient Order of Hibernians of Marion county have perfected arrangements for the proper observance of the day. It will be spent with true Irish spirit, which is fostered by the patriotism of America as well as the love for the "old sod."

The opening demonstration will be a parade, forming at 2 o'clock, the line of march including the principal streets. Samuel Quinn will be grand marshal, and his aids will be P. H. McNelis and Peter DeLaney. Among the organizations to be represented will be the Father Mathew Boys' Brigade, Knights of Father Mathew, Friendly Sons of St. Patrick, Knights of Columbus, Young Men's Institute, Ancient Order of Hibernians and others. Most of the orders will travel in carriages. The line of march will be: West on Washington to Capitol avenue; south on Capitol avenue to Monument place; west side around Monument place to Meridian; south on Meridian to Washington; east on Washington to Monument place; south on Washington to Washington west to the corner of Washington and Market; west on Market to Tomlinson Hall, where exercises will take place.

The hour later, at Tomlinson Hall, will be the annual patriotic meeting, with Mayor Holtzman in the chair. John W. Kern will deliver an address, and Rev. J. J. Wade will also be a speaker. At night, with John H. Mahoney presiding, a musical and literary entertainment will be given at Tomlinson Hall. The programme has been arranged by W. M. Fogarty. The entertainment will be a musical and literary service of the day, but will savor of Irish spirit, the selections and diversissements being specially adaptable to the occasion.

Mr. James Bryson has been especially engaged by the St. Patrick's day committee for the presentation of a bagpipe selection. He will also lead in presenting for the first time to an Indianapolis audience the old-time Irish reel, dance and song, by Jack and Lassie from Erin's Isle. This will be one of the features of the evening's entertainment.

INJURED MEN TAKEN TO CITY HOSPITAL

Charles Hamilton, a painter, fifty-four years of age, living at 1519 Massachusetts avenue, fell off a street car at the corner of Massachusetts avenue and North street last evening, cutting a gash in his head about two inches long. Dr. Jeffries, of the City Dispensary, removed him to the City Hospital.

While the wagon was coming back from the hospital, on Indiana avenue, it drove up behind a farmer's wagon, which was loaded very high with household goods. As the ambulance tried to pass, the driver of the wagon was seen by Dr. Jeffries to fall. He at once went to his aid and found him lying unconscious on the ground. He called the ambulance and took him to the City Hospital. At the hospital it was found that, aside from a severe shock, he was not injured badly. He gave his name as Fred Brown, of Clermont.

ORDERLY GATHERING AT GERMANIA HALL

At the Germania hall last night signs were posted in conspicuous places desiring admittance to mingle. The room which has been doing service as a barroom on the main floor was closed tight and the small room on the second floor was only disposing of soft drinks. Not a sign of beer was to be found anywhere, and one or two men were heard to make complaints because they had no chance to "wet their whistles." No young girls were to be found in the house, and the crowd was as quiet and orderly as possible. On the door on the stairway, which leads to the bar on the second, was posted a sign informing those that were looking for it that that door was closed and that entrance could be had only by the front door. The hall closed promptly at 12 o'clock and no one was there after that.

RAILROAD EMPLOYEE ROBBED BY NEGROES

M. F. Julian, employed at night in the oil room of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company's shops, was attacked and badly beaten by three negroes while at work last night, and robbed of $5 and a silver watch. Julian was at work with his back to the door and was struck a stunning blow by one of the negroes. As he fell one of the men covered him with a revolver and held him on the ground while the others searched his clothes. The negroes escaped. Bicycles Askins and Duncan were called, but Julian was unable to give a description of the men.

Ran His Daughter Away.

Crazy from the effects of the liquor he had drunk Andy Arnold, living at Olive street and Spann avenue, ran his daughter from the house yesterday after threatening to kill his entire family. Bicycles Askins and Duncan were called, but Arnold was gone when the officers arrived.

DEED OF TRUST FOR THE BENEFIT OF CREDITORS

Voluntary Action of the Consolidated Paint and Oil Company.

The Consolidated Paint and Oil Company issued a deed of trust, yesterday, transferring all of its property both personal and real to the Marion Trust Company. This was a voluntary action on the part of the Consolidated Company and was taken to insure its creditors full payment.

The issuance of the trust deed is merely a temporary action and the property deeded will be held in trust for the benefit of the company only until the creditors have been satisfied. The amount of liabilities or assets of the Consolidated Paint and Oil Company has not been made public.

LABOR CAMPS MUST BE PURGED OF DISEASE

State Board of Health Decides to Carry Out Secretary's Views.

After a long session behind locked doors the State Board of Health yesterday came to a decision regarding the labor camps in Dearborn county, southern Indiana, operated by the Shutt Improvement Company. The views of Dr. Hurty, secretary of the board, will probably be carried out. Inspectors will proceed to sanitize the camps and will have the support of the State in any efforts to place the camps in a more healthy and cleanly condition. Other matters of executive interest were discussed at the meeting.

WOMAN DRIVES TO TOWN TO HAVE WOUND DRESSED

Mrs. Mary J. Glick, of Maywood, Tells Dispensary Doctors that Husband Whipped Her.

With her face bruised and bleeding from the beating administered by her husband, Mrs. Mary J. Glick, with no companion but her twelve-year-old son, drove all the way from Maywood to the city last night to have her injuries dressed at the Dispensary.

As Dr. Jeffries dressed the injured face the woman told the story of her husband's brutal attack upon her. The Glicks live in the village of Maywood and own a farm of eighty acres a short distance from the village. Recently Glick decided to secure a manager for the place. For the position he selected an old soldier, who, the woman declared last night, drinks the greater part of the time.

Last night Glick told his wife he had secured the man for the place, and when the woman objected he attacked her, beating her about the face and head and painfully injuring her. The woman will swear out a warrant for her husband's arrest, she declares.
